Your CNM/UNM Advisement Team will help you plan long term to make smart choices today!

Visit early and often even if it’s not mandatory!
• Who is my advisor?
  – Undecided on a major? Go see a UCAC Advisor
  – Pre-Health Sciences Major? Go see your Degree-Granting Unit Advisor or a UCAC advisor.
  – All other majors: Meet with your Degree-Granting Unit Advisor

• Is it mandatory?
  – Depends on policies of your Degree-Granting Unit/Degree Program

• How do you know if it’s mandatory?
  – Holds! Check your LoboWeb account regularly for advisement holds and/or other holds.
  – However, we recommend you visit your advisor at least once per semester whether you have a hold or not.
Academic Advisement

Common Components of a Bachelor Degree

UNM requires that you earn a minimum of 120 credit hours to graduate! These aren’t just any 120 hours, so where are they coming from?

- Major
- Minor – Not all degree programs require a minor
- UNM Core Curriculum
- Upper-Division
- Electives – Not all degree programs have room for “electives”
UNM Core Curriculum

Requires approximately 37 credit hours of courses in 7 areas of study.

1. Writing & Speaking (9 hrs)
2. Mathematics (3 hrs)
3. Physical & Natural Sciences (7 hours-two lectures, one lab)
4. Social & Behavioral Sciences (6 hrs)
5. Humanities (6 hrs)
6. Foreign Language (3 hrs, non-English language)
7. Fine Arts (3 hrs)

Students must earn a C (not C-) or better in ALL Core Curriculum courses.

All undergraduate degrees require completion of the UNM Core Curriculum.

Certain degree plans have already chosen courses for you in the above areas. Please check with your UNM Degree-Granting Unit Advisor to be sure you are choosing core curriculum courses that are appropriate for your major.
• 300 and 400 level courses
• CNM does not offer upper-division courses, these MUST be done at UNM.
• You will notice some courses transfer to UNM as equivalents to courses numbered at the 300 or 400 level. HOWEVER, they retain their lower division level!
• Each degree program requires completion of a certain amount of upper-division. See your UNM academic advisor!
“Electives”

- Transferable vs. Applicable
- Not all degree programs at UNM have room for open electives
- Some “open” electives are restricted
- When given the choice between either upper or lower division electives, sometimes upper division is a smarter choice
- Can this “elective” fulfill more than one degree requirement if chosen carefully?
Residency Requirements - Graduation

- UNM
  Minimum 30 hrs earned at UNM, 15 hrs of which must be earned after having accumulated 92 earned hrs

- College or School
  Varies

- Major
  50% earned at UNM

- Minor
  25% earned at UNM

Transfer Evaluation System (T.E.S.)

CNM courses numbered below 1000 are NOT transferable, but might be used to place you in courses at UNM.

Technical, vocational, CTE (Career Technical Education) courses have limited transferability and limited applicability toward degrees.

REMEMBER, just because a course is “transferable” to UNM DOES NOT necessarily mean that it will apply toward your degree or help you progress toward graduation. See your degree granting unit advisor!
Transfer Course Equivalencies

Knowing how your course credits from institutions you have previously attended will transfer to UNM is an important part of planning your UNM degree. An official course evaluation will be completed once you apply for admission to a degree program. Before that, UNM’s Transfer Equivalency System (TES) can help you determine how your coursework from other institutions may transfer and be used as part of your UNM degree.

The following instructions will help you review individual course equivalencies and build a list of your courses and their UNM equivalents.

Transfer Equivalencies

- Select the “Transfer Equivalencies” link above and look up your school by typing the name in the search tool at the top of the list, or use the Alphabetical Index to select the first letter of the school’s name, or scroll through the list to find your institution.
1. Type part or all of CNM’s name and click “Search.”
   -OR-
2. Click on “C” and scroll down until you find CNM.
1. SEARCH – To search by subject area

Welcome

General Information

The Office of Admissions along with the Office of Financial Aid administer the majority of Scholarships at the University of New Mexico. Scholarship awards and selection processes are subject to change. Scholarships are traditionally known as merit-based, and a competitive process usually accompanies the activities surrounding selection and monitoring of the various programs. Major responsibilities and duties within the scholarship structure deal with the formation of student programs and the administration of these programs.
